SUMMARY

Full Stack Developer with hands-on experience building and deploying modern web applications using React, TypeScript, Appwrite, and REST APIs. Independently designed and launched dynamic, responsive platforms with a focus on user experience and performance. Adept at translating creative ideas into functional interfaces and eager to contribute to a fast-paced development team.

Projects

Qflix - Full Stack Movie Search App — Live Demo
• Built a responsive movie and TV database using React, TypeScript, and Appwrite.
• Integrated external REST APIs to fetch trending and searchable media content in real-time.
• Designed interactive UI with dynamic poster rendering and searchable items to update backend search statistics.
• Implemented backend functions via Appwrite to track user interactions and store media metadata.

ratstudio.co - Developed Company Website — Live Demo
• Developed a fully responsive, animated website using HTML/CSS, JavaScript, and custom media queries.
• Collaborated with a UI/UX designer to implement their design into a fully interactive, cross-browser compatible website.
• Built an interactive video scrubber synced to mouse scroll input, with auto-play fallback after inactivity, enhancing visual engagement and user control.
• Showcased game and web development work with scroll-based transitions and minimal, clean layout.
• Used PHP to handle form submissions and backend communication.
• Optimized for both desktop and mobile users with performance-focused layout decisions.
• Deployed via GoDaddy with version control through Git and GitHub.
